

In essence, concentrated media ownership directly contradicts the spirit of the First Amendment and the idea of a marketplace of ideas that is one of the fundamental values of this nation. For free political speech to truly flourish, we must have diversity in media ownership. Please do not allow one or a few corporate interests to determine what is allowed to enter public discourse.